EMANU-EL READS: THE SABBATH

AS PART OF OUR Emanu-El Reads study of The Sabbath by Abraham Joshua Heschel, the clergy and staff of Temple Emanu-El cordially invite all congregants to three enlightening programs led by Rabbi Michael Marmor, our Emanu-El Reads scholar-in-residence.

IN SEARCH OF HESCHEL
THURSDAY, MAY 1 6:30 P.M.
(GREENWALD HALL, ONE EAST 65TH)

One hundred years after the birth of Abraham Joshua Heschel (1907-1972), his influence continues to grow. A pioneer of interfaith and social activism, as well as a versatile scholar and highly original thinker, Heschel built a name and reputation that are still in the ascendant. In this lecture Rabbi Michael Marmor will present different ways in which Heschel is understood and appreciated. All are invited to join him "in search of Heschel."

This event is co-sponsored by the Skirball Center for Adult Jewish Learning at Temple Emanu-El.

ISRAEL AT 60: REFLECTIONS OF A REFORM ZIONIST
FRIDAY, MAY 2 6 P.M.
FIFTH AVENUE SANCTUARY

As Israel marks its 60th year, Rabbi Michael Marmor will offer an insider's view of some of the major processes unfolding in Israeli society, some of Israel's most remarkable achievements and some of her most formidable challenges. He also will offer his thoughts on the prospects for an indigenous Israeli Reform Judaism. What role does Reform Judaism have to play in the life of the Jewish State? What are we to make of what has been called the "Jewish return into history"?

RABBI MICHAEL MARMOR is the dean of the Hebrew Union College in Jerusalem. He was ordained as a rabbi in the Israel Program of HUC and holds a doctorate from the Department of Jewish Thought at Hebrew University. His 2005 dissertation was on the thought of Abraham Joshua Heschel. Along with his administrative responsibilities, Rabbi Marmor lectures and teaches frequently in Israel and around the world, including the United States and Canada.

Rabbi Marmor will speak from the pulpit at the conclusion of Friday evening services. Afterwards, an Oneg Shabbat will be held in Wise Hall. RSVP to (212) 744-1400, ext. 214 if you will attend the Oneg.

HOLY SPACE, HOLY TIME
SATURDAY, MAY 3 10:30 A.M.
FIFTH AVENUE SANCTUARY

As the Holiness Code from the book of Leviticus is read, Rabbi Marmor will consider where Jews look for holiness. Making use of a major distinction between "Time" and "Space" to be found in the thought of Abraham Joshua Heschel, Rabbi Marmor will present some of the key dilemmas and major opportunities presented by the State of Israel.

Rabbi Marmor's final lecture will be in the form of a Sabbath morning sermon. This program is made possible in part through the Miriam and Henry Goldberg Memorial Lecture Fund.
